Cancel a Scheduled Payment

If you wish to stop payment under your direct debit installment agreement (DDIA), you may do so by contacting your financial institution either orally or in writing at least 3 business days before the next scheduled electronic funds transfer.

Alternatively, if there are at least 14 business days before your next scheduled electronic funds transfer, you may contact the Internal Revenue Service by telephone at 1-800-829-0922 to stop one or more payments due under your DDIA.

Avoid Future Tax Balances

Use the tax withholding estimator found at irs.gov/withholding to ensure you have the appropriate amount of tax withheld per paycheck and to find more information on making Estimated tax payments throughout the year.

Plan Terms and Conditions

- This agreement will remain in effect until your liabilities (including penalties and interest) are paid in full, the statutory period for collection has expired, or the agreement is terminated.
- While this agreement is in effect, you must file all federal tax returns and pay any (federal) taxes you owe on time.
- We will apply your federal tax refunds or overpayments (if any) to the amount you owe until it is fully paid.
- If you default on your installment agreement, you must pay an additional user fee if we reinstate the agreement unless you qualify for waiver.
- We have the authority to deduct this fee from your first payment once the agreement is reinstated.
- We will apply all payments on this agreement in the best interest of the United States.
- We can terminate your installment agreement if:
 - You do not make monthly installment payments as agreed.
 - You do not pay any other federal tax debt when due.
 - You do not provide financial information when requested.
- The Internal Revenue Service may have already initiated enforcement actions on your account. If you have received a "Notice of Intent to Levy and Notice of Your Right to a Hearing", it is important that you contact the IRS representative listed on that notice to prevent further enforcement actions.

Interest and penalties will continue to be added to the amount you owe until the balance is paid in full.

A letter confirming the IRS acceptance of your payment plan (installment agreement) will be mailed to the address in your Profile within 10 days once you agree to the terms and conditions of this payment plan.
